

Jemima thought of a great game to play.

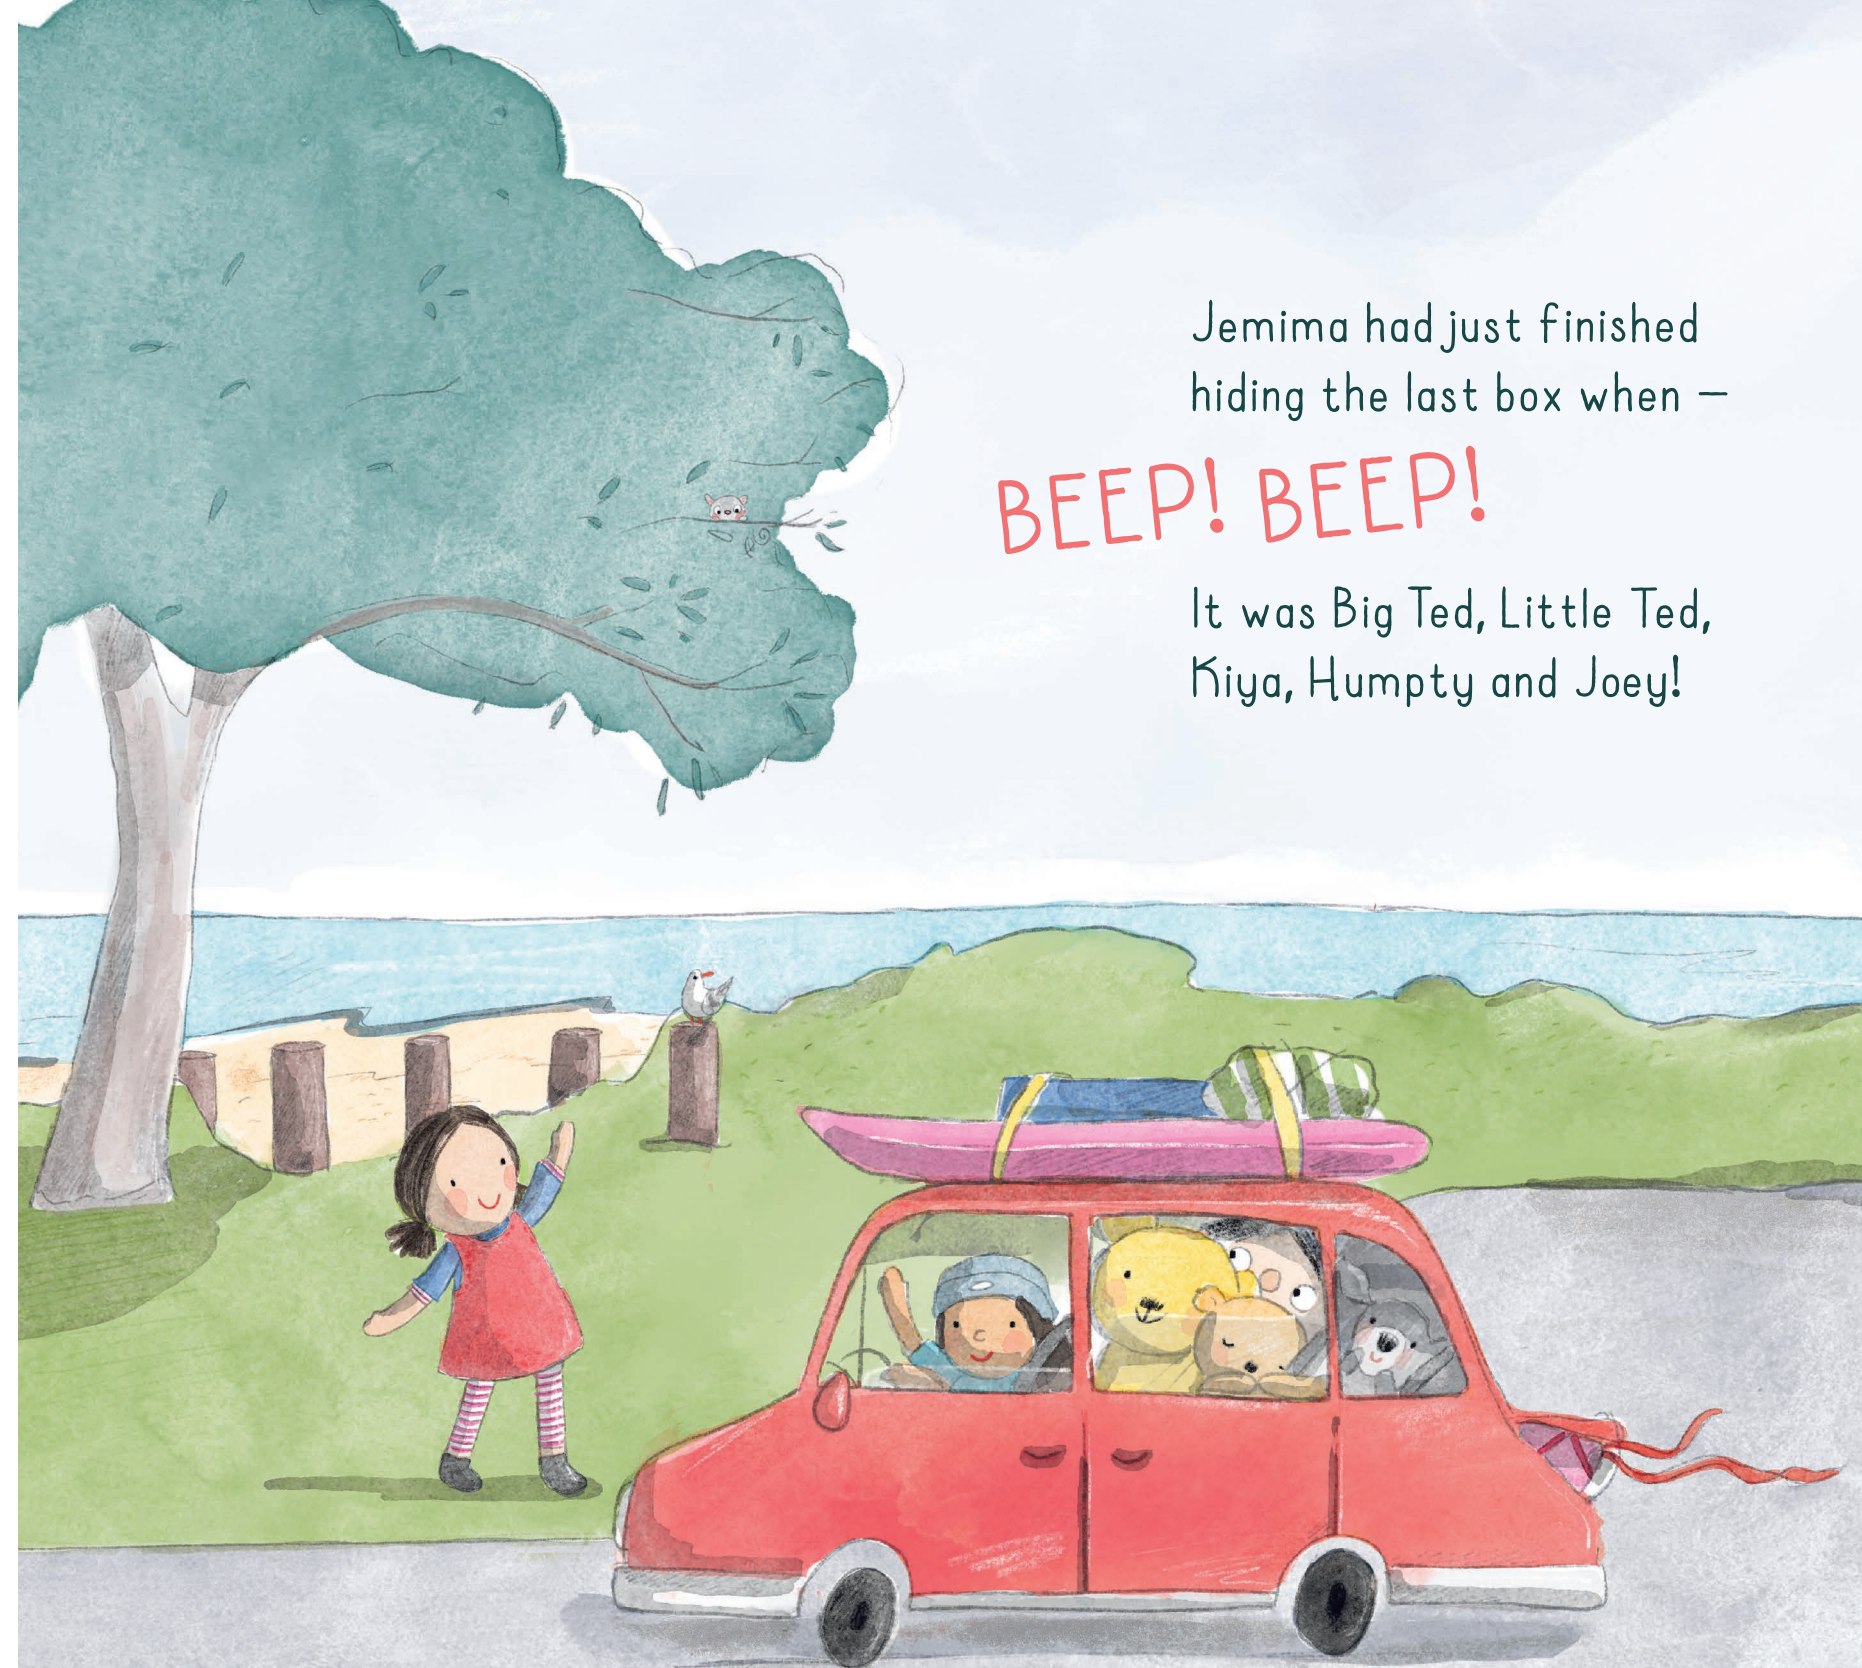

She hid lots of boxes filled with Christmas treats all around the park.

Jemima had just finished hiding the last box when –
BEEP! BEEP!

It was Big Ted, Little Ted, Kiya, Humpty and Joey!

'Is it time to open our presents yet?' Little Ted asked.
'Not yet,' laughed Jemima. 'There's one more surprise to find.'

The friends looked high and low until ...
Hidden behind the sign, sat the very last box.

A big star!

'I know where that can go,' said Kiya.

She stretched up on her tippy-toes and placed the star at the very top of the tree.

'Ho! Ho! Ho!' It was Postman Big Ted.

'It's time for some yummy food and the Christmas Lucky Dip!' he bellowed.
